① I am Nanaji Nagamu Long time no see!

The art I drew after giving birth is being made into a tankoubon, I'm so grateful! Because I always thought that it would be really hard to continue drawing after getting married and having children, so I would have to stop drawing but I drew two short stories, started a Rensai (serialized manga), and even put out a tankoubon. This is all thanks to the help of my family around me! First of all is my husband! He quit his job, to help me bring up our child at home. I believe for a man, it took a lot of courage for him to quit his job, and to have to do housework which he has never touched before, and our child is young, and my daily routine is different from theirs...

Introduction

☆After I asked everyone, "Ichi or Daiya, which one do you think will become Fuuko's boyfriend?", the majority said that it would be Ichi. There were people who said this is how Shoujo Manga works (laugh). If that's how it is, then I'll put Daiya and Fuuko together on purpose! How will the story turn out? I'll wait for everyone's guesses!

☆This is what Nonoji-sensei said. Fuuko is a happy and cheerful girl. One day, two cousins, Daiya and Ichi, move into the apartment upstairs. Cold Ichi and mischievous Daiya gave a very bad first impression! All three are going to the same school as well! How will Fuuko's high school life turn out?

And then there's my sister. She's my assistant, and she got married not too long ago and twice a month, 3 – 4 days before the deadline, all three of us in the family would go to her house to finish the work. Even if she works until the middle of the night, she still has to wake up early to make lunch for her husband and see him off. (While we live at her house, basically my husband is responsible for the housework, but she says that she wants to cook breakfast herself.)

And then there's my brother in law. We spend a week at his place a month. He must feel very annoyed by us, but when he comes home, he would play with my daughters, and sometimes help us buy bento. Even now, I would also ask my family to help out in all kinds of things, and I'm always giving my editors a lot of trouble.

I always take things too simply, thinking, "The matter will be resolved somehow." The reason why matters in the past have been resolved, I find out after, is that it's because someone else resolved it for me. Humans absolutely cannot live alone. Hereafter, I will continue to live, relying on the help of others, and this is the Nanaji Nagamu that is like a parasite.

And then many people will leave me gradually..? (cry)

Hand.

The way I hold my pen is very strange (As in the way I hold my chopsticks). So the places where I have calluses are also different from others.

Fingertip.

It's these three places. The way I hold my pen has been strange since I was small, I already have a callus on my ring finger due to that.

After I started drawing manga, the places where I have calluses also changed gradually. The gloves I use for work also had this kind of change. Maybe it's because I grip too tightly, that my calluses grow on strange places. But, my right hand is very important to me. Even if people say the way I hold my pen is strange, or laugh at my yucky hand full of calluses, I won't mind, because I am proud of this hand. Aaaaaaah! How great! (Self-absorbed.)

⑤The original title 「PARFAITIC！」

One comes across more than just likes and dislikes in life. (Oh! That was good! laugh) Like in my three years of high school, many things happened, and I had various different feelings. Since this is a shoujo manga, besides love as the main theme, I also want to draw some other ways of thinking, and so I decided on such a title. Hoping that I can make this a work of rich contents.

But there was a problem. The original title Parfait in French and Tic (like the Tic in Romantic. It seems to have a medical meaning if used alone.) I made it by blindly splicing English words together.

OH? MAIDEN? WHERE?
RIGHT HERE!
YOU, WHO ABANDONED A POOR MAIDEN AND WENT AHEAD...
DON'T ACTUALLY HAVE THE RIGHT TO EAT IT!
SHEESH
WHY IS THE WAY HE TALK ALWAYS SO IRRITATING?
HMM HMM
My emotions are too riled up

POINT!
I'M GONNA KILL YOU IF YOU LOSE IT!
Is this the attitude for asking some one's favor?

But it doesn't look nice. But if you make it into alphabets, it's also looks very strange. In the end, it was decided to put a heart symbol between Parfait and Tic, and so the matter was resolved. But people who see it will most probably say "This is very weird" But, there are many music groups whose names were decided any old way, it should be all right with such a title for a book. Mm, I'll just think that it doesn't matter

In regards to "By The Lotus Leaves" Usually when one decorates oneself, it is in order to leave a good impression on other people, but this main character makes a bad impression on purpose I don't know if decorating oneself is good or bad "Decorate" The story name "By The Lotus Leaves" comes from that Even though it doesn't have a direct connection with the main theme "which is more important?"

Because many people wrote to me asking about the origins of the title that's why I'm explaining a bit
